- Design ideas show some degree of creativity and further development
- An appropriate design strategy, with some evidence of planning, adopted for some aspects
- Developments of design solutions are influenced to some extent by factors relating to social, moral, environmental and sustainability issues
- Adequate development work achieved through working with a range of techniques and modelling (including CAD where appropriate)
- Materials/ingredients and components selected with some regard to their working properties
- Product/manufacturing specification reflects most aspects of the analysis

Each change or iteration has been explained to say why and how you made the changes you made.
 You have explained your design journey.
 You have created designs, which are sustainable and environmentally friendly.
